| If the drop target bean is shown in a tabpanel or split pane, the onDrop action will not fire. |        |                        |            |
| Plugin uses IClientPlugin.executeMethod() which will look on parent form for form context.     |        |                        |            |
