Description

The attached solution demonstrates the defect. The first time you click the "test busy plugin" button, the busy message shows up immediately as expected. But, the second and subsequent times that you press the button, Servoy just shows "loading...". When "loading..." is shown instead of the busy message, the busy message will show up momentarily when the process finishes and then disappear.

What version of Servoy is that?
What version of Java is that?
What browser have you used for your tests?

Thanks for your precisions.
